Our Values

Commitment, Acceptance, Respect, Excellence, Strength - CARES

Our Focus

OUR PEDAGOGICAL VISION

We personalize our students' learning to ensure that each student is met at their point of need and actively engaged in co-constructing their individual learning pathway. We pride ourselves on knowing our students as individuals and as learners. We use our knowledge of individual students' interests and their evidence of learning to create relevant and meaning learning engagements.

Our students receive ongoing, specific and meaningful feedback about their progress. They are self-reflective and participate in regular one-on-one conferencing with their teachers to discuss, refine and extend their learning goals. Teachers facilitating students' understanding of curriculum expectations by using whole school documentation that explains curriculum standards in language that can be easily understood by our students.

Our teachers work in collaboration to develop and implement an inquiry driven curriculum. Student grouping is flexible, enabling essential skills and knowledge to be explicitly taught at student's individual point of need.

Teachers share and refine their practice by learning and working in teams. They conduct Action Research relating specifically to the needs of the students whom they teach and provide each other with professional feedback outlining the best practices.

Mutually respectful working relationships exist between staff, parents and the broader community, focusing on supporting and extending student learning through providing opportunities for them to applying their skills and knowledge to real life experiences

Our Teaching Learning Approach

To ensure students are engaged and involved in their learning, we personalize learning in the following ways:

- Carefully planned curriculum based on each individual child's needs which includes:
- Emphasis on prior knowledge
- Stress on individual interests
- Focus on individual learning styles
- Identifying the abilities and skills of students helps them identify their future learning goals
- Students and teachers construct learning pathways together based on two-way feedback conversations.
- Experiential learning as a way of life is not environment or curriculum specific
- Teachers and students hold feedback conversations to discuss data and developmental needs and together they set goals. They discuss ways to reach those goals and the types of evidence that the students will need to produce.
- Scope and sequence needs to be flexible
- Parents can track the progress of their wards via the Parents Portals.
- Student's need to be able to articulate their learning in conferences including video conferences.
- Teachers get to know students as "people" not just "students" and what their interests are.
- Children have a choice in terms of regulating behavior, what/how to learn and how to present their learning.

Perso nali zed Lea rnin g Cur ricu lum		Knowledge and understanding of how students learn is demonstrated by a minority of teachers	Knowledge and understanding of how students learn is emergent in teacher practice. Individual and/or teams of teachers are planning new approaches to teaching and learning.	Knowledge and understanding of how students learn is demonstrated by the majority of teachers. Most teachers have developed and implemented practices that put students at the center of the learning process.	Knowledge and understanding of how students learn is evident in the practice of all teachers through a broad repertoire of student-centred teaching strategies and assessment methods
		Initial work is being undertaken to gather data on the individual learning styles of students at a year level	Data on the individual learning styles of students has been used to inform planning for the way in which teaching practices can be aligned to the learning needs and goals of individual students.	Pedagogical practice is informed by data and aligned to the learning needs and goals of individual students at certain year levels	Pedagogical practice is aligned to the learning needs and goals of individual students across the whole school
		Curriculum is usually designed by individual teachers based on the year level and associated subjects.	Teachers plan together to provide consistency of curriculum that reflects the stages of learning and student backgrounds and addresses the needs of particular cohorts of students.	Curriculum planning and practices reflects the achievements of students in relation to the standards for some domains, stages of learning and student backgrounds and perspectives.	All curriculum planning and practices analyses and addresses the full range of learning needs of individual students providing coherence, balance and continuity across all of the domains.
		Domains are connected in an ad hoc manner when planning learning experiences.	Domains are being combined when planning learning experiences for students.	Many of the domains are strategically integrated creating quality learning experiences for students.	All domains are interwoven in a sophisticated way in the design and delivery of a cohesive curriculum for all students.
		Curriculum planning and practice for cohorts of students is undertaken as something separated from System Frameworks and the School Strategic Plan.	Any discrepancies between current priorities in the School Strategic Plan and System Frameworks have been identified.	Whole school curriculum planning and practice demonstrates the interconnectedness between the School Strategic Plan, System Frameworks and school improvement.	Whole school curriculum planning and practice is based on the local context and interconnects with the School Strategic Plan and an agenda of continuous school improvement.
	Assessm	Students require structured support to develop the necessary knowledge and skills to manage and monitor their learning.	Teachers provide support for students to monitor and manage their learning.	Students have opportunities to monitor and manage their learning through structured support.	All students are equipped to monitor and manage their learning.
		Assessment for teaching (for, of and as learning) is not explicitly planned. Assessment of learning (summative) remains the focus.	Assessment for teaching (for, of and as learning) is being planned with a focus on identification of effective assessment strategies.	Assessment for teaching (for, of and as learning) is planned for at the whole school level and for cohorts of students using a range of data. Parents and students receive regular information on strengths and areas for improvement/future learning.	All teachers use assessment for teaching (for, of and as learning) to provide individualized learning.  Learning portfolios enable ongoing information sharing between teachers, students and parents.  Evidenced-based valid and consistent judgments are made through moderation.
ORGANISATIONAL STRUCTURES		Current organizational structures all limit flexibility within student groupings and roles and responsibilities of teachers. Student learning and welfare are managed separately.	Current organizational structures are being examined and options are developed and analysed to identify structures that will better support student learning.	Flexible organisational structures are being implemented for aspects of the learning program and/or particular groups of students.	Organizational structures enable learning to happen in a range of places at a range of times through flexible use of people, IT and spaces.
		Learning spaces are confined to the classroom and there is limited use of ICT to support student learning.	A needs analysis informs future developments of physical and electronic learning environments.	Some spaces have been reorganised to create physical and electronic learning environments that support student learning.	All physical and electronic learning environments have been created that complement diverse student learning.
PERFORMANCE & DEVELOPMENT  CULTURE		Professional learning is fragmented and usually short term.	Protocols have been established to increase the effectiveness of professional learning including the importance of reflection on practice.	Teams of teachers plan for learning opportunities that will meet their needs as a group.	Professional learning in collaborative teams focuses on exploration and sharing of learning and teaching practices to continually improve student learning.
		Professional learning focuses on individual teacher needs rather than agreed school priorities and processes.	School curriculum planning has begun to identify needs and processes for more effective professional learning within the school context.	A schedule of professional learning is established that best meets the needs of all teachers by focusing on their learning needs and grouping teachers accordingly.	The school fosters a culture that values and supports ongoing professional learning, risk taking and focused evaluation
